

Habitat for Humanity of Orange County
88 Vilcom Center Drive, Suite L110
Chapel Hill, NC 27514

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 25, 2024

CONTACT: Landis Mangum, Public Relations Intern
919-932-7077, landism@ad.unc.edu

ORANGE COUNTY HABITAT CELEBRATES ITS 40TH ANNIVERSARY WITH
THE ‘40 VOICES OF ORANGE HABITAT’ INITIATIVE

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – This year marks a significant milestone for Habitat for Humanity of Orange County as it celebrates four decades of providing affordable housing solutions. To honor this milestone, Habitat is launching the ‘40 Voices of Orange Habitat’ initiative.

By sharing stories on social media platforms such as Instagram and YouTube, the organization will shine a spotlight on 40 individuals who have had an impact on Habitat for Humanity of Orange County and the community.

Among the individuals featured is the CEO of Habitat for Humanity International, Jonathan Reckford. Reckford is a native of Chapel Hill and has had a huge impact on Habitat for Humanity of Orange County. He has witnessed the transformative impact of Habitat’s initiatives in addressing the need for affordable housing solutions.

“I get to work on something that is truly transformational, and it has been a great blessing to be a part of it,” he said in a video for ‘40 Voices of Orange Habitat.’

-MORE-

Throughout the calendar year, Habitat for Humanity of Orange County will continue to share captivating stories on social media. This initiative will highlight the impact of 40 individuals whose contributions have made a lasting impression on the organization's legacy.

In addition to the '40 Voices of Orange Habitat' initiative, Habitat's website shares a timeline of the history of Habitat for Humanity of Orange County. From its humble beginnings in 1984 to the milestone dedication of its 300th home in 2021, Habitat for Humanity of Orange County has experienced remarkable growth over the past four decades.

Habitat encourages the community to follow along with the '40 Voices of Orange Habitat' initiative and celebrate the transformative impact Habitat has made in the past 40 years.

About Habitat for Humanity of Orange County

Habitat for Humanity of Orange County is a nonprofit organization in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, that provides and repairs homes for families in need. Habitat for Humanity of Orange County has consistently partnered with families to create healthier and more financially stable lives. Through volunteer labor and monetary donations, Habitat for Humanity of Orange County has served over 300 families since 1984. Habitat for Humanity of Orange County's vision is that everyone in Orange County has a decent place to live. For more information, visit Habitat for Humanity of Orange County.

###