Make an Impact
Landis Mangum, Speaker

Almost 20 years ago, Pam Winstead was living with eight family members in a three-bedroom house. The house was cramped, small, and had no plumbing.

Pam wanted a better life for her four children. So, she applied to partner with Habitat for Humanity of Orange County.

She worked over 300 hours to build her home while holding a full-time job and raising her children. On the day her home was completed, it was pouring down rain.

Even though she knew her things might get muddy, she couldn't wait another day to start her new life.

Pam's new home is a central gathering place for her family. Her children have grown up and now Pam is a proud grandmother of 10. Because of Habitat for Humanity, Pam has a solid foundation for her family.

Forty years ago, Habitat for Humanity of Orange County was formed to build a better community in Orange County. I'm Landis Mangum, and I'm excited to share how you can volunteer with Habitat for Humanity to help impact people in the community like Pam.
